

What key site options are we considering in Hemel Hempstead?

The location of the sites put forward by landowners around Hemel Hempstead and surrounding area are shown in more detail on the maps below:

St Albans City and District Council are also looking at the potential of land to the east of Hemel Hempstead (which lies within their district) to provide new homes, employment land and associated uses. This is a matter that St Albans will be considering further through their own new Local Plan, although we will be liaising closely with them, as what happens on this land will obviously have a big impact upon our residents.
